

ALEXANDRIA, VA.

THURSDAY EVENING, AUG. 11

FROM WASHINGTON.

(Correspondence of Alexandria Gazette)

Who puts "jokers" into bills? With all the committees on enrolled bills and committees on engrossed bills, and committees on the various branches of the public service, which prepare the bills and carry them through their respective branches of Congress, how is it that "jokers" are not discovered until the bills get to the White House, and often not until the president has signed them? asks the Philadelphia Record. Besides the Indian lands concerned in the Gore charges there are lands affected by twenty thousand individual contracts, the right to which has been settled by the courts. The Circuit Court of Appeals has decided the cases in favor of the government. When the Indian appropriation bill reached the president, Solicitor General Bowers discovered in it—these "jokers" always creep into appropriation bills—a provision allowing the holders of the lands to take an appeal from the Circuit Court of Appeals to the Supreme Court. The theory is that they had no expectation of disputing the decision, but hoped to get another year or two of occupation of the lands, and they are working night and day to strip them of oil and minerals. It was too late to send the bill back for correction, and the president signed it, but a receiver for the lands will be appointed, and thus their exploitation during the interim will be prevented. Again the Record asks: Who put it in? "Joker" get into the bill? Who put it in? How did it happen that no one discovered it till it reached the White House?

A DRASTIC anti-lobbying bill was passed a few days ago by the lower house of the Georgia assembly by a vote of 118 to 3. Its passage is assured in the Senate. The bill requires that "any one representing a person, firm or corporation for or against legislation" must register his name and that of his employer and designate the bill he is interested in. Violation is made a felony. In the debate charges were made relative to lobbyists. "I have seen representatives of special interests sit on the floor of this house while votes were being taken on measures while they were interested in," said Representative Hull. "Legislators have been influenced and controlled by paid men sent here to work on them. I have seen both branches of this legislature controlled absolutely by these lobbyists." And, what is true in Georgia is true also in many of the other states, while in Congress lobbying is notoriously carried on even by members of both houses.

IRRELIGIOUS mosquitoes have forced a little band of worshippers near South Orange, N. J., to abandon their Sunday evening services. All summer long Rev. A. Boylan Fitzgerald, pastor of the Hilton Methodist Church, has punctuated the service and sermons by slapping at mosquitoes which attacked his face, the back of his neck and his hands. The slaps re-echoed from the pews, where the congregation were being pestered by hungry imps which, it seemed to them, were sent by Old Nick himself to distract their pious thoughts. The pastor realized finally that the mosquitoes, seeking prey, left their haunts as the shades of evening fell or just at the time that his congregation sought his church for spiritual teaching and consolation. "Brethren," he announced after Sunday night's service, "until the first frost a brief respite service at 4 o'clock will replace the evening service. 'Amen.'" the congregation chorused thankfully.

IT BECAME KNOWN in Newport, R. I., yesterday that Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan had summoned Senator Aldrich to a conference on board Mr. Morgan's yacht on Tuesday. This explains the message sent from there Tuesday night declaring that friends of the Senate boss were urging him to reconsider his "decision" to retire from the Senate.

The assistant secretary of the Colorado board of charities and corrections of Eldorado, Col., reports that the town holds the record for law abiding communities. In three years not a single arrest has been made and the door of the jail has stood wide open. Eldorado has a population of 500 persons.

Indicted for Perjury.

Chicago, Aug. 11.—It is reported that Thomas G. Lee, of Armour & Company, packers, has been indicted for perjury by the federal grand jury in investigating the beef cases. Lee was also on the stand if Jerome H. Platt was an Armour man, had not attended meetings with other packers held in Attorney Albert H. Reeder's offices for the purpose of fixing prices. Lee is alleged to have purposely misinformed the jurors, saying Platt never attended the meetings. More indictments are expected.

officials of the Madrid faction. They were received by official of the division of Latin American affairs, who will inspect their credentials. Later the envoys probably will be received by Acting Secretary of State Huntington Wilson, to whom they will set forth the object of their mission.

Branding Samuel Gompers' explanation of the settlement of the famous Buck's Stove & Range Company's war with union labor as a "despicable lie" and making a vicious attack upon Frederick W. Gardner, the new manager of the company, a pamphlet, issued by "American Industries," a magazine published in the interest of the National Manufacturers Association was broadcast over the country today.

The attack was taken by labor leaders here to mean that the manufacturers will make every possible effort to gain a verdict from the Supreme Court of the United States affirming the jail sentences pronounced against Gompers, John Mitchell and Frank Morrison, the American Federation of Labor officials charged with contempt of court in connection with the publication of the name of the Buck company in an "unfair list."

MAYOR GAYNOR

Some of the Mayor's Friends Express Anxiety—Physicians Disagree.

Hoboken, N. J., Aug. 11.—At 8 o'clock this morning the doctors who issued the night within call of Mayor Gaynor's bedside, issued the following bulletin:

"Mayor Gaynor's temperature is 100.1-5; pulse 76; respiration 17. He passed a good night and slept well, although there were a few wakeful intervals due to nervousness. He is now sleeping."

Dr. Arlitz stated that the mayor's condition was more favorable this morning than at any time since he was brought to the hospital. He is very cheerful and confident that he will recover. Mrs. Gaynor, their daughter, Mrs. Harry K. Vingt, and Secretary Bob Adamson spent the night at the hospital.

Hoboken, N. J., Aug. 11.—Despite the optimistic cheering of the bulletins issued by the physicians in attendance upon Mayor William J. Gaynor, shot on Tuesday by J. J. Gallagher, a discharged clock employee, none of them will make any positive prediction either that he is out of danger or that he will surely recover. The reticent attitude of the attending surgeons is worrying the mayor's friends who fear that they may be keeping something back and that the condition of the patient is not so good as the doctors seem to indicate. This, however, the doctors deny and say that they are "keeping the public fully informed."

At 9 o'clock Dr. George E. Stewart, who had been in attendance on the mayor during the night, left the hospital. He said:

"I dressed the mayor's wound at 8 o'clock. It looked healthy and there was no indication of infection. The mayor converses cheerfully and the situation is encouraging."

Most of the doctors agree that the gravest danger of blood poisoning will have passed by today. They say that in gunshot wounds, if infection results, it usually manifests itself within forty-eight hours. It was planned to hold another consultation of the doctors today when the wound will be carefully examined.

It is learned that there is grave dissension among the doctors regarding the proper treatment of the mayor. Dr. George D. Stewart, the surgeon in charge of the case, is opposed to an operation to remove the bullet. He insists that the physical condition of the patient is such that an operation would be a very serious matter and that it must be avoided if possible.

On the other hand, Dr. Arlitz and some of the other doctors claim the bullet must be removed. They say that if it is permitted to remain where it is, infection will surely follow, and a possibly fatal outcome. So serious is the difference of opinion that a general consultation of all the doctors has been called for tonight. At that time the matter will be thoroughly threshed out, and a definite decision regarding the advisability of an operation.

Jersey City, N. J., Aug. 11.—The grand jury will not for the present indict James J. Gallagher, who on Tuesday shot Mayor William J. Gaynor, in charging the grand jury today specifically instructed that body not to take up the case until further notice. He said that if Gallagher were indicted for a minor offense it might impede the ends of justice should the mayor succumb to his wounds.

Investigating Gore Charges.

McAlester, Okla., Aug. 11.—The first testimony supporting to some extent the story told by Senator Thomas C. Gore regarding the Chickasaw and Choctaw land sales in Oklahoma, is now before the congressional committee investigating the charges brought by Gore that he was offered a bribe of $50,000.

Congressman Charles Carter, of the Fourth Oklahoma district, turned over light on Gore's charges yesterday when he testified that Richard C. Adams, an Indian attorney in Washington, had told him that he (Adams) was to get five percent of McMurray's ten percent contract and the Congressman Bird McGuire was also in the deal.

Dr. E. N. Wright, a delegate of the Choctaws, was also to get something, Carter testified. Adams told him, as were "several others" whose names were not mentioned.

Gore testified that Jake Hamon named Bird McGuire as one of the men interested in the McMurray contracts. Chairman Burke, of the investigating committee, questioned Carter closely regarding McGuire, and Carter asserted that "he would say frankly that he did not think McGuire should be in Congress."

The news also told of the conversation the two men had with Adams regarding the five percent cut was to get from McMurray, and testified that Adams said: "Mac's got to come across with me this time; he double-crossed me once on $750,000, and don't you know when the thing was over, Mac just laughed at me. I'm not going to take the short end this time, for he is going to sign up."

The scene of the investigation was today shifted to Sulphur, Okla., a village of 3,500, housing a railroad station and one telephone office.

Mule Steals Bank Run. Louisville, Aug. 11.—A mule's death occasioned a run upon the South Louisville Deposit Bank yesterday, which for a time threatened to wreck that institution. A depositor of the bank, which is located at the entrance of Churchill Downs, on Monday purchased a mule, giving in payment a check for $75. That night the animal died. Suspecting that he had been "stung," the purchaser stopped payment of the check.

The payee presented the check Tuesday afternoon, just before the bank closed, and payment was refused. He left the bank, spreading the report that the bank has ceased paying. More than 100 depositors were in line seeking to withdraw their savings when the bank operated yesterday morning. Only a wild dash from town in an automobile by the president, Dr. Netherland, with currency saved the situation. By noon, the real cause of the run being learned, it stopped.

The Charlton Case. Jersey City, N. J., Aug. 11.—Today was the day set for the formal arraignment of Porter Charlton, held in the Hudson county jail as a fugitive from justice, pending extradition proceedings by Italy, but under the agreements of attorneys the case has been postponed until September 20.

Assistant Prosecutor McCarthy intimated today that the county physician has had Charlton under close surveillance and that if Italy does not press a demand for Charlton by September 20, the prosecutor will act on the report of the physician, request the appointment of an insanity commission. It is understood that the prisoner's relatives will make no effort to keep him out of a mad house.

Heart-Shaped Spot on Sun. St. Louis, Aug. 11.—The sentimentally inclined may find an omen of importance in the statement yesterday of Rev. Father Martin Brennan, priest astronomer, that there is a heart-shaped spot on the sun. It is an unusually large spot, being estimated by Father Brennan at from 50,000 to 70,000 miles in width, and it is surrounded by 14 smaller spots of which are of goodly size. The cluster is about midway between the rim of the sun and its center. Father Brennan was unable to discern it with smoked glasses, but got a good view through a telescope.

A Freak Hen. Altoona, Pa., Aug. 11.—For the last seven months a leghorn hen owned by F. A. Winter, a music dealer here, has been laying two eggs every third day, an ordinary egg with a good shell in the morning and an egg with practically no shell in the afternoon.

Winter wrote to the Department of Agriculture at Washington about his freak hen and experts of the department informed him that occasionally a hen lays two eggs a day, but there is no official record of a continuous performance of this kind.

Buried Alive in Coal Fall. Tamaqua, Pa., Aug. 11.—As the result of a big fall of coal and dirt in the No. 11 mine of the Lehigh Coal & Navigation Company, yesterday, George Murphy, fire boss, of Coaldale, was instantly killed; Peter Boyle, of Coaldale, was buried alive and Hugh Holliwood, of Coaldale, was badly injured. Rescuing parties worked all day without reaching Boyle and he has been given up for dead. The fall occurred unexpectedly in what is known as a "skip" in the breast and carried with it hundreds of tons of debris.

Youth Killed by Girl. Pittsburg, Aug. 11.—Alleging that he had wronged her, Catherine Botti, aged 13, slipped up behind Pasquale Bolpe, aged 18, and struck him on the head with an axe, here today. He was almost decapitated and died shortly afterwards. The girl was arrested.

Indictments Sustained. Albany, N. Y., Aug. 11.—Supreme Court Justice Coman today sustained the indictments found against former State Engineer Fred W. Skene and others for alleged grafting on good roads contracts. The dismissals of the indictments was based on the ground that the grand jury minutes were taken by an unauthorized person.

Gasometer Explodes. Dusseldorf, Aug. 11.—A gasometer exploded today in the Erbsloch airship shed in Leichlingen, injuring a number of persons. The shed was demolished. The explosion occurred near the recent catastrophe in which Oscar Erbsloch's airship fell to the ground, killing Erbsloch and four others.

VIRGINIA NEWS.

The annual bush meeting at Purcellville closed yesterday evening. Hon. C. C. Carlin made an address.

The Fredericksburg City Council has appropriated the sum of $8,313.94 for the extension of the city water works in the lower and western part of the city.

H. T. Garnett, jr., assistant cashier of the Bank of Westmoreland at Colonial Beach, has resigned and will go to Brazil, where he has accepted an offer as bookkeeper in the employ of the United States government service.

Harvey Cornwell, 35 years old, employed as a motorman by the Washington Railway and Electric Company, was found dead Tuesday night in his room at 357 I street southwest, Washington. He is a native of Prince William county. He is survived by his widow and three brothers.

State Senator Thomas in a speech at the Purcellville bush meeting yesterday said that "the greatest danger immediately threatening the democratic party is that it will sit idly by and permit insurgents to regenerate the republican party, bringing it into conformity with democratic principles."

A Recreant Lochlainn.

Pittsburg, Aug. 11.—Miss Helen M. Doherty, well known in the society of Aspinwall, a fashionable Pittsburg suburb, brought suit for $5,000 damages yesterday against H. W. McLaughlin, a wealthy young man of the North Side. Miss Doherty alleges that she has lost a good home through hearkening to the voice of McLaughlin. She says that he promised to marry her, permitted her to run away from home, leaving a scathing note behind for her parents, and then did not keep his promise to meet and marry her. This, Miss Doherty sets forth, placed her in a most embarrassing position, since she had already left the home of her parents, who objected to her friendship for McLaughlin. The tone of her letter, she says, was such as would not permit her to return home.

Wounding Attempts to Escape.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 11.—Joseph Wendling, alleged slayer of little Alma Keller, of Louisville, Ky., made an attempt to escape from Chief of Detectives Carney while being taken from the train at Olney, Ills., according to dispatches received today.

The train from St. Louis reached Olney at 5 a. m. and Carney had arranged for an automobile to meet him there, in which, it is supposed, he intended to complete the trip to Kentucky. When Carney started to leave the train, Wendling resisted and in the melee kicked Dan Walsh, a reporter for the Louisville Courier-Journal, off the platform of the car. Walsh was not seriously injured.

HOTEL PROPRIETOR ARRESTED.

Following a fire at the Rock Spring Hotel, a boarding house on the river front of Wilmington, N. C., at an early hour yesterday J. C. Holly, the proprietor, a former "preacher of the sanctification faith," was arrested by order of the coroner, charged with responsibility for the death of Edwin Cromwell, 19 years of age, an orphan ward of the proprietor, who was found suffocated in his room on the third floor of the building after the fire.

Several patrons of the hotel were taken from the windows of the burning hotel by the firemen.

Before the coroner's inquest, which began an investigation yesterday, sheets saturated with kerosene, upon which the boy was lying, were exhibited. Two large empty oil cans were found in an adjoining room.

Witnesses at the inquest testified to hearing a noise, as of a struggle, in the room of the youth about midnight, and that they recognized the voice of Holly.

Lawyer J. H. Scull testified that Monday he signed a certificate of transfer of an insurance policy for $2,500 from Cromwell to Holly, the premium on which, he was informed, had been paid by Holly.

The autopsy failed to disclose any evidence of violence, but the stomach was distended and the lungs congested, which, said the physician, may have been caused by smoke.

The coroner's jury resumed its investigation today. In the meantime, Holly is in jail without bond.

THE INDIAN LAND STEAL.

At McAlester, Okla., yesterday, the Indians learned a few more things about the proposed sale of $20,000,000 worth of their lands in the hearing before the congressional investigating committee.

Congressman C. D. Carter, of the Fourth Oklahoma district, testified that at an interview at the home of Richard C. Adams, an attorney at Washington, Adams had said he had made an arrangement by which he was to secure five percent of the "profits" to be derived from the McMurray contracts. "He also told me," testified Mr. Carter, "that Congressman B. S. McGuire was in on the deal and would get his share. He told me that Dr. Wright, a delegate for the Choctaw Indians at Washington with a salary of $6,000, was in on the deal. He also said 'we've got some others,' but he didn't mention other names."

E. B. Latham, an attorney for McAlester, related a meeting with McMurray two years ago when McMurray, he said, offered him a present of $10,000 if the old tribal contract would "go through."

Grand Commandery Officers.

Chicago, Aug. 11.—Sir William B. Melish, Cincinnati, was today elected first eminent grand master of the grand encampment of the United States at the Knights Templar Conclave. Sir Arthur MacArthur, of Troy, N. Y., was elected deputy grand master and Sir W. Frank Tierce, San Francisco, Grand Generalissimo. These are all promotions.

Sir Lee S. Smith, Pittsburg, was elected grand captain general; Sir Jos. Kyle Orr, Atlanta, Ga., grand senior warden; Jehiel Weston, Chamberlain, St. Louis, Minn., grand junior warden. Denver will probably be the next meeting place.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Rev. Joel H. Metcalf, of Taunton, Mass., has discovered a new comet.

Report comes from India that the attempt to grow cotton on a large scale has resulted in failure.

The 300,000 bushel grain elevator of the Grove Elevator Company, at Buffalo, was yesterday destroyed by fire.

The Malloy Steamship Company has about completed negotiations for the inauguration of a direct line between Baltimore and Galveston.

Mrs. Mary B. Train, 70 years old, of San Diego, Cal., said to be worth millions, was married in Chicago to James Dibs, of New York, an Assyrian linen salesman, 23 years old.

Fifteen members of the mob at Newark, O., who participated in the riot which resulted in the lynching of Carl Etherington on July 8, were indicted yesterday by a special grand jury for first degree murder.

Secret service men have discovered three inmates of the state prison at Charlestown, Mass., with an ingenious counterfeiting outfit, with which they had been making spurious half-dollars. The Chesapeake Bay Navigation Company yesterday began its service between Cambridge and Annapolis, where connection is made with Baltimore and Washington.

The Chapel of the Good Shepherd on the Blue Ridge Mountain, above Castleman's Ferry, Clarke county, will be consecrated on August 18, by Bishop A. S. Lloyd. The services will begin at 11 a. m.

After endorsing United States Senator Joseph W. Bailey for the democratic nomination for president in 1912, and nominating a full state ticket, headed by Oscar B. Colquitt for governor and A. B. Davidson for lieutenant-governor, the democratic state convention of Texas adjourned last night at Galveston.

The man who in 1860 stamped the national convention for Abraham Lincoln by bolting the caucus after the New York delegation had pledged to cast its vote for William H. Seward, died in New York. John B. Allen passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. H. Travis, Mount Vernon, Tuesday at the age of 96.

The will of John G. Carlisle, former secretary of the Treasury, who died in New York August 1, was filed for probate in Washington yesterday. The instrument is dated July 28, 1910, and bequeaths all his property to his three grandchildren, John G. Carlisle, jr., of New York; Jane Carlisle Allen, wife of Fred L. Allen; and Laura Carlisle Pitkin, wife of Lewis J. S. Pitkin, of New Haven, Conn.

A dispatch from Rome says four rioters were killed and more than 100 wounded yesterday by a volley from troops at Bari, 60 miles northwest of Brindisi. A meeting had been called to protest against the high prices of food, and a great crowd assembled. Revolutionary speeches were made, and when officers ordered the mob to disperse it savagely attacked the carabinieri, who had been sent to preserve order. The troops fired twice, when the rioters scattered, leaving the dead and wounded behind. Strong reinforcements have been sent to the town, as further trouble is feared.

Robert, Irvine, and John, jr., three sons of John A. Stright, of Providence, R. I., aged respectively 14, 11, and 5 years, were instantly killed, and Herbert Straight, 9 years old, another son, was seriously injured, yesterday afternoon between Apponaug and Cowesett by the Portland express on the New Haven road. All four children were playing on the track when the train dashed across a sharp curve upon them. The bodies were literally ground to pieces and scattered for more than 100 yards along the tracks.

Miss Irene Dodge, of Normal, Ill., was killed and Herman Scantlan, of Athens, Ill., severely injured Tuesday night when an automobile, driven by Rev. T. M. Moore, of Athens, was struck by a street car. Father Moore and Miss Myra Bell, the fourth occupant of the car, escaped injury. The priest and the three others were on the way to an amusement park when the accident occurred. The car came upon them at a turn, striking the rear wheels of the automobile and throwing it against a tree, without, however, disabing it. Miss Dodge jumped and fell in front of the car. She was killed instantly.

The resolution unanimously adopted in Chicago yesterday establishing a concordat between Knights Templar governing bodies is said by Masons to be the most important step taken by the conclave for many years. The concordat establishes amicable relations between the knights of England, Ireland, Scotland, Canada and the United States, and is an event which has been crystallizing for many years. Its consummation is said to be the chief object for which the Earl of Euston, program master of England and Wales, visited the thirty-first triennial conclave.

LOVE CHARMS AWAY WARTS. After a year's conscientious and patient treatment with nitric acid and similar remedies, Robert J. McRian, a young curb broker, of New York, has succeeded in removing seven huge warts from the third finger of the left hand of the girls he loves, and as a reward Miss Lilith Borspberg has consented to their betrothal. Just 13 months ago McRian asked Miss Borspberg to promise to marry him, but she told him such a thing was out of the question, as she would be unable to get the solitary over the warts, and even if this were possible "the ugly things" would have detracted from the beauty of that symbol of their plighted troth. So McRian went to work, and after what seemed to him the longest year he ever lived, succeeded on Tuesday in vanquishing the last stubborn excrecence of the flesh, and now he wears a smile and Miss Borspberg wears his ring.

Distress in Japan. Tokio, Aug. 11.—Reports from all over the empire indicate that the devastation resulting from the recent unprecedented rainfall is growing hourly worse and the casualties will be very heavy.

Thousands of houses have been submerged and railway traffic is practically paralyzed everywhere. In many districts the inhabitants are facing absolute starvation because supplies cannot be sent to them.

Charged with Assaulting a Child.

Ouray, Colo., Aug. 11.—Following his identification by Marie Coughlin, aged 8, as the man who assaulted her yesterday afternoon, dragged her along Main street, and then threw her into Uncompahgre Canyon, more than 100 feet deep, William Metzler was formally arraigned today. Metzler denies that he ever saw the girl.

Mario had been sent to a store by her mother when, she says, she met a man who offered her candy. She refused it, and the man disappeared. Later, she says, he suddenly reappeared, seized her and dragged her to the end of Main street, stuffing a handkerchief into her mouth to prevent her screaming. The girl says he then assaulted her and hurled her over the edge of the cliff. Only the fact that she struck a heap of brush saved her from death. She managed to crawl out of the canyon and told her story to a policeman.

Steamer Afire.

Chicago, Aug. 11.—The wireless station here received a message at noon today stating that a steamer was afire in the lake about 12 miles north of the Chicago harbor. The fireboat Graeme Stewart was dispatched to the scene. The wireless was sent by the Christopher Columbus and did not say whether the vessel in peril was a freight or passenger boat.

The fire tug and life barge crew called into the lake this afternoon by the wireless report that a steamer was on fire, returned at 1:30 p. m. and reported that the fire was on a lighthouse tender. They stood by until the fire was put out.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

Unconscious since yesterday, as the result of a paralytic stroke suffered a week ago, Robert Trent Park, whose great-grandfather was one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, and who is famous as a philanthropist, is believed to be dying at Waltham, Mass., today. He is 75 years old.

The Milwaukee Baseball Club, of the American Association, has purchased outfielder Arthur (Remben) De Groff, of the Wilkes-Barre Pa., Club. De Groff was for a short time a member of the St. Louis National and was later turned over to Jersey City of the Eastern League.

The grand jury in New York today returned an additional indictment charging grand larceny against Erwin J. Wider, former cashier of the Russo-Chinese Bank's New York branch. The specific crime alleged is the larceny of $17,000 worth of bonds of the Southern Pacific Railroad and seven-cent worth of paper in which they were enclosed. Wider pleaded not guilty.

Wholesale Murders.

Chicago, Aug. 11.—W. J. Meyers this afternoon shot and killed his wife Grace; his son, Ralph, aged 7; his father-in-law Frank Ponton and then killed himself. Meyers had separated from his wife. She took up her residence with her father.
